PORTSMOUTH, O., April 27.—A mother and two daughters were burned to death early today when a disastrous fire destroyed at least six dwelling houses in the East End of this city.

Mrs. Mary E. Bentley, 41, and her daughters, Edith, 9, and Luta, 8, perished when flames broke out in a row of frame houses.

NATIONAL ECONOMY BILL COMES BEFORE HOUSE

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, April 27.—The National Economy bill framed by a bi-partisan house committee was to be called up for action today with leaders frankly fearful of a rebellion similar to the uprising on the tax bill.

An atmosphere of bitterness pervaded the house, with opponents charging "gag rule" and attacking almost every provision of the bill now estimated officially to save $217,000,000 next year.

Rep. Clancy (R) of Michigan charged that a "joker" has been inserted in the bill by which government-owned piers worth $50,000,000 would be sold to private steamship companies.

The provisions of the bill slashing salaries of postal employees and limiting privileges was denounced by Rep. Mead (D) of New York as an attack upon the efficiency of the service.

Extreme opponents of the measure planned to make a fight to defeat the special rule under which the bill is to be attacked as a "rider" to the legislative appropriation bill.

The controversy, which originally revolved around the proposed $67,000,000 cut in salaries of government workers, was broadened to include nearly every section of the measure.

Predictions were made freely that the house would knock out all attempts to reduce benefits paid war veterans by limiting now-service connected disability payments to those not filing income tax returns.

Vare Slate Wins In Philadelphia

Davis Carries City By Nearly 200,000 Over Gen. Butler

PINCHOT FORCES SCORE SURPRISE

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, April 27.—Complete return early today revealed sweeping victories for the regular Philadelphia Republican organization the entire Wm. S. Vare slate being swept into office with one minor exception.

U. S. Senator James J. Davis won the city's majority vote by almost 200,000 over Maj. Gen. Smedley D. Butler, independent candidate of Gov. Gifford Pinchot. He polled 279,573 votes while Butler garnered but 97,754 in Philadelphia proper.

In the congressional battle in the 4th district Deputy Governor Arthur Sellers won by near 1400 ballots over Congressman Ben Golder, who had been repudiated by the Vare organization.

Former Mayor Harry A. Mackey, candidate for the state legislature in the 22d district, also was defeated by Howard M. Long. Vare sponsored candidate, in the tune of a 975 3,000 votes. In this same section Congressman Edward L. Stokes won the 6th congressional district nomination over Albert H. Ladner. Stroke got 17,272 votes to Ladner's 13,541.

The Pinchot forces, however, scored an unexpected victory in the 14th legislative district when Robert S. Hamilton defeated J. Walter Flanagan, organization candidate by 4,655 to 4,219 votes. Hamilton is a brother of former Sheriff Wm. J. Hamilton and a deputy state boxing commissioner.

In the second district, which is that territory in Lawrence County outside the City of New Castle, William McElwhee, Jr., of New Wilmington was unopposed. For this reason tabulation was kept, as Mr. McElwhee got them all.

BAY STATE VOTE NOT SURPRISING

(International News Service)
RICHMOND, Va., April 27.—"I am very well pleased."

This was Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt's comment this morning of the results of yesterday's presidential primaries in Pennsylvania and Massachusetts.

The governor made this brief statement after a telephone conversation to New York with James A. Farley, chairman of the New York Democratic campaign manager, and Louis Howe, his personal secretary.

The sweep of former Governor Alfred E. Smith in Massachusetts was not a great surprise to Governor Roosevelt, although he had hoped to win from five to eight of the Bay state's delegates.

When Governor Roosevelt retired at 2 o'clock this morning he was confident he had won at least 60 of the 76 delegates in Pennsylvania.

Smiling, he pointed out that it was a "good day's work" to win a majority of the 112 delegates in the two states.

Richards Wins In Close Race

Renominated For State Assembly—W. C. Shanafelt Is Second

McElWEE WINNER IN LAWRENCE CO.

In the closest fight seen in the race for General Assembly here in many years, Bart Richards, incumbent, won the Republican nomination again on Tuesday, April 26, defeating his nearest rival William C. Shanafelt, by 84 votes. Mr. Richards' total was 2188 and Mr. Shanafelt's 2104. Robert B. Strickler, Jr., was third with 1402, Clayton H. Reeves fourth with 1341, and William E. Erk trailed the field with 419 votes.

In the early hours of the returns Tuesday evening Mr. Shanafelt led, his strength being confined mostly to the fifth, seventh and eighth wards. His own ward, the seventh treated him handsomely, giving him 552 votes, about one fourth of his entire strength. As the returns from the fifth and eighth wards were added, Mr. Shanafelt looked like a winner, but as the returns from the first, second, third and fourth wards began coming in, Mr. Richards kept gaining and finally passed Shanafelt.

There was considerable margin between second and third place, but third and fourth were close. Robert B. Strickler, Jr., nosed out Clayton H. Reeves for third place and made a splendid showing. For a week before the primary the political prophets placed the fight between Richards and Shanafelt, but gave Reeves third place. This place Strickler succeeded in getting.

Mr. Richards carried the first, second, third and fourth wards, Mr. Shanafelt carried the fifth, seventh and eighth, and Mr. Reeves carried the sixth ward.

In the second district, which is that territory in Lawrence County outside the City of New Castle, William McElwhee, Jr., of New Wilmington was unopposed. For this reason tabulation was kept, as Mr. McElwhee got them all.

JAMES, PARKER AND GAWTHROP ARE WINNERS

Seem Nominated For Places On State Superior Court

By JOSEPH A. LOFTUS

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)
HARRISBURG, April 27.—Sweeping along with the tide of votes which piled into apparent victories for every state-wide office candidate of the Republican state organization, the three superior court aspirants of the "regular" slate today had amassed substantial margins over independent opponents.

The organization candidates for the judiciary were former Lieut. Gov. Arthur H. James, Judge William M. Parker, and Judge Robert S. Gawthrop. The former lieutenant governor had a plurality of approximately 9,000 over Judge Parker.

In James' home territory, Luzerne county, a total of 254 out of 401 precincts showed 24,987 votes for James, 21,981 for Parker, and 4,986 for Gawthrop.

Judge Joseph Stadfield, Allegheny, was high man among the three candidates who trailed the organization slate for superior court. Late returns indicated his lead would be increased substantially although the three high men were in no apparent danger of losing their positions.

The Pinchot influence showed its hand in this fight in Luzerne county only in gathering a comparatively large vote for Judge Stadfield. He managed to displace Judge Gawthrop there for third place.

Judge Albert D. MacDade, Delaware, and Albert G. Rutherford, Wayne, failed to cut any substantial figure in the balloting.

Davis Is Winner In Contest With Butler For Republican Nomination

By GEORGE R. HOLMES

Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt forged into the lead in Pennsylvania today as outlying districts reported a distinct trend away from Alfred E. Smith, contesting with Roosevelt for the Keystone state's 76 delegates to the Democratic national convention.

At 11:30 o'clock this morning, with 4,590 precincts reported, the vote stood:

Roosevelt, 54,308.

Smith, 53,577.

Meanwhile Senator James J. Davis continued to increase his lead over Maj. Gen. Smedley D. Butler. The vote:

Davis, 519,487.

Butler, 273,666.

PHILADELPHIA, April 27.—In a smashing comeback after earlier primary defeats elsewhere, Alfred E. Smith clung to a small lead over Franklin D. Roosevelt today in Pennsylvania's preference vote for the Democratic presidential nomination, which offers the rich stake of 76 delegates to the Chicago convention.

With almost half the state's precincts reported, Smith had a lead of slightly more than 3,000 over Roosevelt—much to the discomfiture of the latter's managers who had confidently boasted of their ability to deliver anywhere from 60 to the complete slate of 76 delegates to the New York Governor.

Undoubtedly the complete returns will be necessary to determine the ultimate winner, but regardless of which New Yorker ultimately squeeze through it is now virtually

PA NEW OBSERVES

Election day weather was quite a contrast to that which has been experienced during the past week. It was cold and raw during the day and at midnight last night it started to snow.

Pa New noted that in one election precinct where there were all women on the board a year ago, there were all men yesterday.

All manner of names were written in for president of the United States in the space allotted to one Joseph Irwin France of Maryland on the Republican ballot. President Hoover seemed to be the popular choice in the names that were written in, but many local celebrities were honored.

Although the weather is hardly suggestive of gardening, the Red Cross is being swamped with requests for free garden seeds, and they cannot sort them fast enough to hand them out. If half of the seeds passed out grow, there will be enough vegetables to supply half the people of New Castle for some time.

As Pa New drove down Mahoning Avenue yesterday, he noticed that men were at work razing an old building next to what used to be called the "Red Onion."

The old saying that "summer is never here until snow is on the peach blossoms" seems to have a lot of truth in it. When we awakened this morning to find a thin blanket of snow had fallen during the night.

Men are busily engaged unloading materials for the new bridge that is to be erected at Low Grove.

Although May comes in next Sunday, the early morning risers of this morning were greeted by snow flurries.

Pa New observed a horse, tied to a telephone pole at the city parking lot at the foot of Mercer street this morning. This was quite a novelty, in this age of automobiles.

Considerable Credence Placed In Reports Lindbergh In Personal Contact

RUMORS THICK IN CASE TODAY

(International News Service)
TRENTON, N. J., April 27.—Rumors far outnumbered the known new developments in the Lindbergh baby kidnaping mystery today.

Because the unverified reports all tended to indicate a new contact was established with the abductors, either by Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh himself or one of his emissaries, considerable credence was placed in them.

Colonel H. Norman Schwarzkopf, head of the New Jersey state police, refused to reveal how much hope he officially was placed on a new clue engaging troopers today.

This involved a mystery woman seen in Brown Mills, N. J., in a light blue roadster. Postoffice clerks reported she mailed a letter to Lindbergh, then disappeared.

Lindbergh was reported to have personally met the kidnapers and their agents on a boat with John H. Curtis, head of the Norfolk, Va., negotiators.

Schwarzkopf issued a denial that the colonel had done so.

Seventy Seven Precincts Give Vote Of 400 To 123 In County

If Lawrence county is any criterion of the will of the Pennsylvania Democrats, Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York will be the nominee of that party for the presidency of the United States. The two delegates to the national convention elected by the Democrats on Tuesday, John K. Javens of Rochester and John H. Wilson of Butler, are pledged to support the popular choice of the party.

Baldwin Wins Auditorship

State Senator Frank E. Baldwin Has Big Plurality Over Ralph Flinn

PITTSBURGH MAN IS SNOWED UNDER

By SIDNEY H. EIGES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, April 27.—Carried along on the powerful wings of the "regular" Republican organization, State Senator Frank E. Baldwin, of Potter county, today continued to amass a crushing plurality over Ralph Flinn, of Pittsburgh, his Pinchot-supported rival for the state auditorship.

Baldwin's lead crept close to the 200,000 mark as the Philadelphia districts and other state-wide strongholds of the organization continued to turn in the normal majorities for the upstate leaders.

Given an auspicious tinge by the large majorities returned in his home districts of Potter and McKean counties, Baldwin continued to collect the votes, faltering only in Luzerne, where Flinn was accorded a majority in the Pinchot-controlled sections.

Flinn, who accompanied Gov. Gifford Pinchot and his senatorial candidate, Gen. Smedley D. Butler, on an extended tour of the state during the campaign, achieved slight victories in the rural sections and scattered districts when the gubernatorial slate and the "Independent" Republican faction were given support.

Vote Piled Up
In Delaware county, home territory of the organization governed by State Senator John McClure, Baldwin stepped to the fore with a lead of almost 20,000 votes over his closest rival. That feat was repeated in the Scranton district and in other large urban sections.

Flinn, who accompanied Gov. Gifford Pinchot and his senatorial candidate, Gen. Smedley D. Butler, on an extended tour of the state during the campaign, achieved slight victories in the rural sections and scattered districts when the gubernatorial slate and the "Independent" Republican faction were given support.

Mills Opposes Immediate Cash Bonus Payment

Assails Plan To Issue Fiat Currency To Meet Proposed Bonus

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 27.—Immediate payment of the soldier bonus was assailed vigorously and the proponents of the plan to issue fiat currency to meet the obligation, ridiculed with stinging sarcasm by Secretary of the Treasury Mills when he appeared before the House Ways and Means Committee today.

"Destroy confidence and you dry up credit and paralyze enterprise," Mills declared. "No measure was ever drafted better calculated to destroy confidence than the one now before you. Enact it into law and you will stifle all hope of an early economic recovery and write the most lamentable chapter in American financial history."

Payment of the face value of the adjusted service certificates would require $2,400,000,000. The certificates mature in 1945. Mills said the measure was designed "to pay an obligation not due, in money that is not honest."

DARROW PREPARES TO MAKE PLEA

Massie Trial Is Near Conclusion

Plea For Defendants To Be Made Today By Attorney Darrow

CASE MAY REACH JURY TONIGHT

By JAMES ADAM
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HONOLULU, T. H., April 27.—

Clarence Darrow, the master defender of modern times, will go forward into battle today probably for the last time to plead before the strange jury he ever faced in his life for four Americans accused of the "honor slaying" of an Hawaiian native.

Before nightfall in Honolulu the fate of Lieut. Thomas H. Massie, his mother-in-law, Mrs. Grace Hubbard Fortescue, and two naval enlisted men, Albert O. Jones and E. J. Lord, should be placed in the hands of a jury representing a distinct cross-section of Hawaii's racial melting pot.

The four are accused of the second degree murder of Joseph Kahahawai, who confessed, Lieut. Massie testified, to an attack on his wife.

To Consider Cases Separately.

The jury, half white, half of mixed blood, will be asked by Judge Charles S. Davis to consider the fate of Lieut. Massie as separate from the other co-defendants, International News Service learned, because a defense of insanity was advanced for Lieut. Massie alone.

That Darrow will place almost as much emphasis on the "unwritten law" as on the insanity of Lieut. Massie was predicted by close observers of the trial.

Three verdicts will be possible: Guilty as charged of second degree murder, guilty of manslaughter, and not guilty.

All attention was riveted on Darrow, whose four-hour plea will precede that of Prosecutor John C. Kelly.

Judge Davis predicted that he would need an hour to read the 65 typewritten pages of instructions, and then the jury will retire.

Last Appearance.

Darrow himself evidently believes this may be his last appearance before a jury. He is an old man now and he feels his age.

"I am not as young as I used to be," he remarked, nodding his head to his shaggy, unruly hair.

"When a man gets beyond his four score and ten, he knows it. I hope I may prove equal to the task before me today. I think I will."

George S. Leisure has already sounded the keynote of the defense. "The most significant part of his plea, with its hint of the 'unwritten law,' came when he said:

"I feel confident that every man in the civilized world feels that the ravishing of a woman—particularly his wife or daughter—is the greatest offense that can be committed."

Associate Prosecutor Barry Ulrich intimated that the state had scored a victory in the debate over the judge's instructions when he told the jury:

"The court will instruct you as follows: 'No man may take the law into his own hands nor will the alleged fact that the deceased ravished the wife of one of the defendants furnish justification for killing.'"

Forest Yield Is $40,777 In Year

HARRISBURG, April 27.—Receipts from the Pennsylvania state forests for 1931 totaled $40,774.31, according to a report recently compiled by the bureau of management of the Department of Forests and Waters. Rentals from the more than 2500 camp sites on the state forests, leased to individuals, clubs and organizations of Pennsylvania, netted the commonwealth close to $25,000 and produced the largest single item of income.

Receipts from the Delaware state forest in Pike and Monroe counties added an income last year of more than $9000, the highest of any of the twenty-four state forest districts. The Michaux state forest in Franklin and Cumberland counties was second with an income of $6500. The total receipts from the Pennsylvania state forests since 1900 have been $29,475, more than half of which has been deposited in the State School Fund according to law.

abroad to make his report today to Colonel H. Norman Schwarzkopf, in charge of the kidnapping investigation.

The major refused to discuss the results of his trip. From other sources, however, International News Service gathered a complete record of his European detective saga.

He was sent abroad to check up on the theory that a German-Austrian band of criminals was responsible for the kidnappings.

SMITH AND ROOSEVELT IN CLOSE BATTLE FOR DELEGATES IN STATE

assured that Al Smith is going to the Chicago convention a factor to be reckoned with.

Smith made a clean sweep of Massachusetts yesterday, capturing the entire delegation of 36, and it seems probable that he will repeat this victory in Connecticut. These victories in addition to his Pennsylvania showing combine to make him a formidable figure at Chicago, not so much in behalf of his own nomination, for no one believes that can be accomplished, but certainly with regard to influencing platform and candidates.

Delegates in Doubt

It may be days or even weeks before it is possible to say just how many delegates Smith will have or Roosevelt will have out of this Pennsylvania primary, irrespective of who emerges as the ultimate winner.

The Pennsylvania law does not bind the delegates to support the winner of the preference vote. About three fourths of the candidates for places on the delegation orally promised to do so, but there is nothing more binding than that in it and if they choose to "re-instruct" themselves in the light of subsequent events there is nothing to stop them from doing so.

Some of the delegate candidates were supported both by the Smith and Roosevelt factions. Others were definitely committed to one or the other. In view of Smith's surprising showing and the possibility of his eventually emerging as winner of the preference vote, this situation likely is going to result in considerable jockeying in the Penna delegation between now and June 27 when the Democrats meet in Chicago.

The Roosevelt managers were looking hopefully today to the unreported districts in Allegheny County (Pittsburgh) and in the rural districts to overcome Smith's lead. The Pittsburgh vote was only about 20 per cent tabulated at 9:30 o'clock this morning. What was tabulated showed Smith and Roosevelt running neck-and-neck. Smith carried Philadelphia over Roosevelt 2 to 1 and carried the cities of Scranton and Wilkes-Barre by even greater figures.

Meanwhile, Senator James J. Davis won the Republican senatorial nomination from Maj. Gen. Smedley D. Butler, late of the U. S. Marine Corps, in decisive fashion. His majority over the bone-dry Marine who was supported by Gov. Gifford Pinchot, is expected to be between 250,000 and 300,000.

Incidentally Gov. Pinchot, who administered a sound thrashing to the organization two years ago by grabbing the governorship again, took one himself in yesterday's voting. Not only was his handpicked senatorial candidate, Gen. Butler, overwhelmingly defeated, but Mrs. Pinchot also was losing today in her effort to wrest the congressional nomination in the 15th district from Rep. Louis T. McFadden.

Allegheny County Slow

One of the peculiar features of the tabulation was the delay in returns from Allegheny county (Pittsburgh), the home of Joseph F. Guffey, the Roosevelt leader in the state, who has steadfastly predicted that Roosevelt would emerge with approximately 65 out of the state's 76 convention delegates.

Philadelphia gave Smith a 2 to 1 victory over Roosevelt in the final figures, but at noon only about 20 per cent of the Pittsburgh districts had reported. Next to Philadelphia county, Allegheny is the largest in the state.

Delegates Divided

In some sections of the state there apparently was little effort made by election officials to tabulate the Smith-Roosevelt figures. With a Republican senatorial contest, nominations of thirty Republican congressmen, besides many state officers, Republican Pennsylvania was seemingly indifferent as to whether Smith or Roosevelt emerged with the lion's share of the 76 Democratic delegates to the Chicago convention.

Thus it probably will be considerable time before the final result will be known.

The prevailing belief was that whatever eventuates, the 76 delegates will be divided at Chicago, although to what extent is not yet apparent.

The Pennsylvania primary law does not compel the elected delegates to support the man who carries the primary. About three quarters of the delegates have stated publicly their intention of so doing, but there is nothing binding about it, and the close division between the two factions may prompt many of the delegates to go to Chicago fancy-free in June.

Roosevelt Forges Ahead

Roosevelt's overtaking Smith during the forenoon was due to returns from the rural districts, where

Smith ran poorly and from which the returns were belated.

But Smith's unexpectedly strong showing in Pennsylvania, together with his capturing the 36 delegates from Massachusetts yesterday and the probability of his winning Connecticut, insures that "Al" is going to Chicago with something in his pocket.

A week ago the Smith stock was at pretty low ebb, following defeat wherever he had entered his name in state primaries or conventions. Whatever the ultimate result here in Pennsylvania in a division of the 76 delegates, his fortunes are at least looking up.

SMITH MAKES STRONG CONTEST AGAINST SWICK

of Mr. Smith was surprising considering his late entrance into the field. He carried the city of New Castle, but lost Lawrence county by a slight margin.

Reiz Is Winner.

Fred L. Reiz, president of the New Castle News, and Dr. Robert B. Greer, Sr., of Butler will represent the 26th congressional district at the national convention of the Republican party in Chicago, Ill., in June. Returns from 229 precincts in the county show both of Beaver-Butler district show both of them far ahead of their opposition, and the remaining precincts to hear from will probably increase their leads.

Mr. Reiz carried the city of New Castle and Lawrence county over the field, getting a total of 8394 votes in his home county against 5739 for Greer, 1499 for Karabasz and 3703 for Rodgers, in 85 precincts out of 91.

In Beaver county Mr. Reiz received 8080, Greer 8312, Karabasz 3201 and Rodgers 3747, in 87 out of 100 precincts. In Butler county Karabasz received 5543, Reiz 1834, Greer 468 and Rodgers 4179, in 57 precincts out of 85.

The grand totals for 229 precincts out of 276 follow:

Greer, 19,648.
Reiz, 18,308.
Rodgers, 11,629.
Karabasz, 8,709.

While his plurality did not measure up to quite what his followers thought it would, General Smedley D. Butler carried Lawrence county for the United States Senate, polling 6,493 votes to 6,010 for James J. Davis in 85 precincts out of 91. Davis carried the city by a small margin, but Butler overcame this lead in the country districts.

The vote was a useful light in this county, only about 12,500 votes being cast out of a possible 30,000. The campaign seemed to lack interest and that lack was mirrored in the returns.

Large Vote for Smith

C. Ed. Smith Jr., local business man, surprised his friends with his splendid showing for Congress, carrying the city of New Castle by 138, but losing this lead to Dr. J. Howard Swick in the rural districts. Dr. Swick carried the county by 303, getting 5,672 votes to Smith's 5,369.

For the state senate Alonzo S. Batchelor is an easy winner, but only because of the enormous plurality given him by Beaver county. In that county he is leading by three to one. In Lawrence county Mr. Batchelor polled 4,611 votes to 4,373 for Edward Haydon of Midland, Pa. The showing of Haydon was a surprise, as no particular fight was waged for either candidate.

For alternate delegates, Major Guy G. Wadlinger of New Castle and S. John Irvine of Butler are well out in front and are both easy winners. In Lawrence county Carrie Jeffery Roberts was high with 6673 votes, with Major Wadlinger running her a close second with 6243 votes.

Ruey Defeats Young

The only fight that developed into a runaway race in the county was that of Samuel R. Huey against Charles H. Young for State Committee. Mr. Huey has been out of politics for some years but re-entered to make the race for State Committee. In the City of New Castle he defeated Mr. Young by about 500 and in the entire county by about 1100. The votes for 85 precincts out of 91 are: Huey, 6158. Young, 4938.

The tabulated returns of the primary election on Tuesday will be found in other columns of today's News.

19,000 votes behind in this city early today.

Roosevelt ran ahead of Mayor Curley.

There was only one district, the 15th, in which the election was close, but even there the Smith delegates emerged victorious. In the others, the delegates and delegates-at-large pledged to Smith were swept into the lead by a 2 to 1 vote.

Hoover Wins

In the Republican primaries, all delegates elected were pledged to President Hoover.

Mayor Sinclair Weeks, Newton, and Representative Albert F. Bigelow, Brookline, two anti-prohibitionists, defeated their opponents, Prof. Thomas N. Carver, Harvard University, and State Representative Clarence S. Luitwiler in the 9th district by a 2-1 vote.

The President won 34 delegates, although one of them, elected William F. Whiting, Holyoke, former Secretary of Commerce wanted to go to the convention uninstructed. He is favorable to Hoover.

The vote included complete returns from Boston, which gave Walsh 55,571 and Mayor Curley, Roosevelt delegate, 30,352.

BLUE ROSE MAY FIT THE PERIOD

SANTA ROSA, Cal., April 27.—It would take times like these to bring out a "blue" rose.

John Bulla, local floriculturist and hybridizer, who has been experimenting for years to produce a true blue rose, says he believes he has succeeded and will have the rose in bloom for the spring flower show here in May.

Bulla explained "blue" roses previously shown, in Germany, actually have been purple or bluish-red rather than blue.

MANHOOD

WHEN you refer to an attorney-at-law you don't mean an ambivalence-chasing shyster; when you speak of a doctor of medicine you don't mean a quack; when you refer to a minister of the gospel you don't mean a hypocrite using the church as a cloak; and when you speak of a man you don't mean some cowardly member of a wolf pack gang, any more than you would think of a nag when speaking of a horse. When thinking of a man, your mind doesn't picture some derelict following the lines of the least resistance, but rather a red-blooded, sound-thinking, progressive human being. When you say man, you think of some up-and-doing living person who is honestly shaping his destiny alone, and not some whining, leaning puppet endeavoring to corral enough other whining puppets to make an augmented chorus. The words man, manly, manhood and man power all have too true a ring to be in any way mistaken.

Suppose five men were cast away on a barren island and all thrown upon their own resources to keep within themselves the breath of life. It would not be two days before one of those men would be chosen by the other four to be their leader. That one man chosen would be expected to guide the five back to civilization. No money is represented in this transaction, but its barren island equivalent is—the sustenance of life. Even in the highest stage of civilization money is nothing but the medium of exchange. On the barren island four men are helping one that he may direct all five back to the life which civilization has made dear to them. This leader was not chosen for his wealth nor his political affiliations, but was selected for his strength of character and his ability to lead.

In civilized life men become leaders through ability and courage—ability to think and courage to do. A real man seeking advancement doesn't call upon some gang to push him along, but strives to do that which he is doing so well that he attracts attention to his ability. His thoughts are always to build and never to tear down. He is striving to do that which may have been done only to do it better, and his confidence in himself is a magnetic power that attracts others to him. Other real men become anxious to engage his services and he climbs under his own power—a stronger personal power than that of any gang.

When you refer to a successful concern, what do you really mean? A successful organization, and a successful organization is one that is made up of real men who are not afraid to think and work.

Sometimes when a sink orator is growling about everybody from the general manager down to a foreman, just ask yourself the question, "How long would the business continue, meet its pay roll and employ you if the sewer orator were running the business?" A farmer must know his soil to get the most out of it, and a man must know his business to remain at it. If some men were given a farm, they would starve on it, and if some men were given a business, they would financially die with it. When men realize that a gang anchors them instead of propelling them, then they will rely upon individualism for their advancing power.

The real boy at circus time carries water for the elephants and sees the circus. The gang tries to steal in under the tent. The real boy becomes a real man, and what this country needs most is real manhood.

NOT SO GOOD

In an address before the Economic Club of Chicago, Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, head of Columbia University, proposed several remedies for the depression. Among those most emphasized were the cancellation or heavy reduction of war debts and reparations, and the world-wide lowering of tariff barriers. These two proposals might help in relieving the situation of certain European industrialists, but it is difficult to see where they are going to help the United States.

The reason for the American tariff is the difference in the cost of production at home and abroad. Instead of advocating a system which would put the American worker in competition, in our market with the cheaply paid labor of Europe and the Orient, thus sinking him to the same low level of living conditions, why not advocate the raising of the standard of living in Europe and Asia? It may be answered that it would be impossible to put over a program of this kind. Perhaps so, but it is going to be just as impossible for the internationalists here to convince the American people that they ought to shoulder the remaining burden of the cost of the World War through debt cancellation, and to throw open the greatest market in the world to the poorly paid labor of Europe and Asia.

THE MARKET OBSESSION

The sick person who takes his own temperature all the time and spends too many waking moments studying the clinic thermometer does not further his own recovery by so doing. This country's pre-occupation with the stock market's ups and downs is a similar mistake.

A professor of economics who writes on financial topics has for some time been telling his readers that the public "looked too much to the stock market and not enough to the processes of production and distribution" for the curing of its troubles. In other words, it has been anxiously studying one of the effects of what ails us now rather than studying causes and their removal.

"A great many business executives," he adds, "who have their fortunes to rebuild, have been thinking of rebuilding them through a fortunate break in the market rather than through a valuable contribution to industry of commerce. In the first instance, our great wealth was built up on the latter, not on speculative profits." And our recovery, if it is sound, will have the same foundation.

The analogy of the sick person cannot be pressed too far. He can get skilled medical advice. In the matter of the economic sickness, the "doctors" have not been too well agreed either as to the cause of the illness or the remedies. Nevertheless, getting eyes and thoughts off the stock market thermometer as a major interest would doubtless be helpful.

Three Questions
About Chemistry and You
And Sin and Self-Despising

By MARSHALL MASLIN

Would you change your ways and be "different" henceforth? First look back on your life and the troubles you have had, the difficulties—trivial or grave—that have afflicted you. Examine them, ask yourself how many of them grew out of your own nature. You will see, I think, that again and again you have acted in the same ways. You have made the same mistakes over and over, walked the same path into trouble. Been like a chemical that, unerringly, has the same reaction when it comes into contact with another chemical. Been like a fixed wheel that goes round and round and round.

If you would change, you must change that chemical mixture of your life just a little. Be less like a wheel that revolves and goes nowhere. And do you, in your troubles, despise yourself? Montaigne, born four centuries ago next year, advises you well: "That opinion," said he, "which disdaineth our natural life is ridiculous, for, after all, our life is our being, our all. It is against nature that we should despise ourselves. This is a peculiar malady. No other creature is known to hate and despise itself; and it is for a like vanity that we desire to be different from what we are."

Something has been written about having a "decent respect for the opinions of mankind," for others. It is necessary, too, that we should have some decent respect for our own opinions.

Do we like to suffer? There was a Dutchman named Maartens who wrote a novel about one Joost Avelingh who sat in a prison cell and thought about his wickedness. "He knew well enough," wrote Maartens, "that he was not a good man. Above all, he had had weighing upon him for many years the half-admitted consciousness of a great transgression. He had played with it, and mourned over it, and repented and done penance for it. He had been miserable over it just because a man interesting to himself, and contented with the working of his own conscience. Such thoughts were not unpleasant to him, for they seemed to him like a patent of his soul's nobility."

Joost Avelingh, we know you well. We have done that, too.

THE CHANGING WORLD
Is it possible that we
Shape this world by what we see?
Build it, make it, write its terms,
Catalog discovered germs
And spend all our time and strength
To increase its breadth and length?
Is this world the very same
Into which Christ Jesus came?

Does the graybeard chemist grope
To enlarge man's view and scope?
Does the old earth pass away
And with every dawning day
Is it possible some change
Brings a new world and a stranger?
Who can tell what wonders loom
In the laboratory's gloom?

When men learn what forces rule
Atom, grain and molecule,
Who can say on land and sea
Just what wonders yet may be?
Who will dare to prophesy
What new suns will ride the sky,
Or what great discovery soon
May put man upon the moon?

Is it possible that we
Limit life what we see,
And with map and chart and plan
Fix the boundaries of man?
Yet above, below, around
May be marvels yet unfound,
Which discovered may erase
All we've learned of time and space.

Tributes To Miss Lathrop Recognize Debt Of Nation

Former Head Of Children's Bureau Credited With Work Which Places Her Among Leaders In Devotion To Public Service

Death of Miss Julia Lathrop, who built the children's bureau of the federal government to a high point of efficiency, is made the occasion for public recognition of her capacity and her leadership in public service. Her association with Jane Addams and her ability to lay the foundations for useful legislation are especially lauded.

"Her mission in life," declares the INDIANAPOLIS NEWS, "was to direct the warm-heartedness and charitable impulses of thousands of women, who devote part of their time to social service through church and other organizations, into the most useful channels. Her surveys provided the scientific background for laws and general policies. The experience of successful projects in this field was made known throughout the country as a pattern and inspiration to other groups. She was an evangel of the new charity, which assumes that the American people wish to foster by every reasonable means an equality of opportunity among all children."

"She was the first of her sex to hold the rank of federal bureau chief," says the BALTIMORE SUN, recalling that "during her nine years as chief, she transformed the bureau into a major agency in the realm of infant and maternal care, and thus inevitably projected it into the storm centers of political controversy." The SUN holds that she gave "an inspiring example of selfless devotion to the common welfare." The CLEVELAND NEWS states that "her sex may well be proud of Miss Lathrop's example, as her country is," while "the many honors paid her memory may help to inspire others to give their lives to welfare work."

The NEWS recalls that, "long identified with Hull House in Chicago, she won international recognition as a practical philanthropist."

"The country owes much to her for the welfare of its people," declares the SPRINGFIELD (MASS.) REPUBLICAN, with recognition that "Miss Addams' tribute to her as one of the 'most useful women in the whole country' was spoken with authority." The Republican offers the review of her useful career: "As a member of the Illinois state board of charities, 1893-1909, she had been instrumental in putting upon the statute books the state's progressive laws abolishing child labor and providing for factory inspection, control of tenement house conditions, establishment of juvenile courts and reform of the management of state and county charitable institutions. In association with Jane Addams she made special studies, during her residence, of such problems as the care of the insane, the care of children and juvenile delinquency, supplementing her studies in this country with personal investigation of conditions and methods in Europe and the Orient."

"This nation's most valuable resource," in the opinion of the DAY-TON DAILY NEWS, "is its youth. The fact that the children's bureau is only two decades old indicates that we did not always cultivate and safeguard this human wealth. Much has been done since this agency came into being. Much remains to be done. The recent White House conference on child health and protection is an auspicious effort along the line of Miss Lathrop's twofold policy, first to assemble the knowledge, and then distribute it. Her success is an encouragement."

Reviewing the associations of Miss Lathrop and Miss Addams, the HARTFORD DAILY TIMES affirms that the former "was recognized throughout the nation and even the civilized world as an authority in her chosen interests," and says that she "possessed not only a gifted mind and an almost boundless warm heart, but also an ability to express herself in graphic and felicitous style which greatly added to her influence as a leader in a neglected field." That paper concludes that "the two women were to be thought of as a pair of social workers and leaders who were peerless in a type of public work for which women are especially fitted."

The ROCKFORD REGISTER-REPUBLICAN, speaking for the local interest in the career which had "formed one of the brightest stories in the achievements of American women," declares that "her life has been a source of pride to this community in which she was born," and recalls that "she could have lived a life of ease, indifference to the problems of society, indulging herself in a placid and aimless existence, but her cultured mind and high spirit dictated a vastly different career." The Rockford paper adds: "Of rare intellectual gifts, she bore herself with the unpretentiousness that is so real in the truly accomplished. She had a happy wit and gaiety of spirit and her friends loved her greatly for her personal charms."

"If the little children her work has helped could join in a mighty choir, her requiem would be unprecedented," avers the MILWAUKEE JOURNAL, while the CHICAGO DAILY NEWS pays the tribute of local interest: "Her admirable work in Illinois in connection with state charitable and correctional institutions and as a resident of Hull House and intimate friend and associate of Miss Jane Addams had fitted her exceptionally well for the pioneer activities of the children's bureau. The League of Nations later recognized Miss Lathrop's services by appointing her to a place on its important child welfare committee. In all her official positions Miss Lathrop insisted upon keeping patronage dispensers at arm's length. She was fearless and uncompromising in her independence, but she had tact and rare diplomatic skill. Her methods were admirably conciliatory. She was staunch advocate of merit in places of public employment, and her humanitarianism was thoroughly practical."

EXPENSIVE AUTOGRAPHS
Several months ago, Henry Ford bought a piece of granite for his home. He was so pleased with it that he asked the manufacturer for the names of all workmen who helped build it and sent each a check for $100.

But more than half the cancelled checks did not come back, indicating that they were not cashed. Ford's auditor then wrote the recipients whose checks had not been returned, asking them to cash them so he could balance his books.

He learned that the workmen were holding onto the checks for keepsakes, many of them having framed them for Mr. Ford's autograph.

SIT STILL
Can you sit still when it is the time for you to be still?

Is there anyone more annoying than the person who wriggles in his chair, frequently leaves it, walks about, sits down a few minutes, then jumps up again?

In nearly every gathering there is one or more uneasy persons. In the theater they move about so much that those behind them must be constantly changing position to see the stage.

In overland buses there is the fellow who walks the aisles.

Most folks who travel want to look ahead at the road.

It is a habit gained from riding much in automobiles.

But the man who stalks the aisles is constantly shutting off views. Then there is the guest in the house who never sits still.

Legs crossed, uncrossed, recrossed, right to left turn in chair and reverse, tapping meanwhile or fingering shoe lace, etc., etc.
You know the kind with fingers clasping and unclasping, twitching. Children may be expected to be fidgety but when it comes to grown-ups it is unpardonable, shows lack of self control and no thought of the comfort of others.

Can you sit still, when you should?

Tardieu Unable To Attend Conference

Plans For Five-Power Conference At Geneva, Fail As Tardieu Takes Ill

(International News Service)
PARIS, April 27.—Premier Andre
Tardieu today upset plans for a
Five-Power Conference at Geneva
Friday, when it was hoped to bring France and Germany into agreement on disarmament, by telegraphing Joseph Paul-Boncour, head of the French delegation, that he could not possibly return to the seat of the League of Nations.

Tardieu said his doctors forbade the trip because he is suffering from layitis.

Henry L. Stimson, United States secretary of state, had arranged for Tardieu and Chancellor Bruening of Germany to confer in an effort to arrange some compromise along the lines of the American disarmament proposal.

Prime Minister J. Ramsay Macdonald of Great Britain, and Dino Grandi, Italian foreign minister, were also slated to participate in the discussions.

Members of the Uparatusa fraternity will shortly decide on their regular summer program, schedule, Don Huffman, the president, has announced. The chapter now meets every Monday evening.

LOOT REPORTED LIGHT

done in gaining entry was considerable. The investigation of Y. officials is still progressing.

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, April 27.—Slum-ming while attired in formal extending dress is a faux pas, Jane Sanders, St. Louis dance hostess, had found today.

Clad in a white satin gown, white satin slippers, a green spangled coat and hat to match, Miss Sanders went to explore the East Side.

In a few moments traffic was blocked.

DUE TO SAME CAUSES
(International News Service)
BOSTON, April 27.—Injuries caused by accidents in both football and motoring are due to the same fundamental causes, according to a report by the governor's committee on street and highway, after comparing the results of a nation-wide survey of gridiron deaths and injuries with the 34,400 deaths on the nation's highways last year.

Chief causes of football's 49 deaths and the nation's tremendous auto

1—Lack of rigid enforcement of

Explains Device By Which Deaf Can Now Enjoy Radio Music

By LEIGH MATTESON
International News Service Science Writer.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—An electrical device which will bring to the nearly 15,000,000 deaf persons of this country the pleasure of hearing the radio, was explained to the National Academy of Sciences by Dr. Frederick Bedell of Cornell University.

Dr. Bedell calls the apparatus a "deaf speaker," mindful that it differs from an ordinary radio loud speaker. It can be attached to any radio set with a loud speaker or directly to a transmitting microphone.

Utilizes Vibrations.

It utilizes the vibrations of the diaphragm in a loud speaker to set up sound vibrations in the skull of persons with defective hearing. These vibrations are transmitted to the skull bones by various means by a hard rubber pad pressed against the cheek bone or back of the ear, or by a means of a bone or rubber quill held firmly between the teeth. In Dr. Bedell's own language, "around the middle ear, where defects causing deafness are usually located, and are picked up by the bone-encased fluid of the inner ear."

On basis; many extras have also been paid. The depression laid a heavy hand on the big company during the first quarter of this year for which was an operating deficit of $1,136,607 compared with total earnings of $3,970,920 three months ago and $19,464,836 a year ago. After all charges, including depreciation, depletion and obsolescence, for which $10,740,321 was allowed, and interest on subsidiaries' bonds, there was a total deficiency of $13,218,549, which was swelled to $19,523,468 by payment of the preferred dividend.

Omit Dividend On Steel Common

Directors Take Action At Meeting Tuesday—Preferred Dividend Ordered

NEW YORK, April 27.—United States Steel Corporation on Tuesday dropped the dividend on its common stock for the first time since 1915 and reported the largest deficit in its history for the opening three months of 1932.

However, the company again went into surplus to provide dividend checks for owners of the preferred shares, declaring the regular quarterly disbursement of $1.75 on that cumulative issue.

Omission of the common payment had been widely expected. The directors themselves had forecast such action three months ago when they announced that maintenance of a common dividend depended on business conditions and earnings. Fifty cents a share was authorized at the last previous board meeting, this being a reduction from $1. During boom times Steel common was on a $7 annu-

Registration For Seeds Is Stopped

More Register Than Can Be Accommodated, Red Cross Secretary States

Registration for free seeds at the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, was halted yesterday when it was found that more people had already applied for seeds than could be supplied with the amount on hand.

Six hundred packages of seeds, containing a variety of vegetables, was received from the American National Red Cross. These were divided to provide enough for the average sized garden. The task of separating the seeds has been a tremendous one, and only about half the work has been completed. Members of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, will aid with the work on Thursday.

Distribution of the seeds has been carried on for two days now, a long string of applicants crowding the Chapter rooms each day, awaiting their turn to receive these seeds.

Tree Lecture At Highland School Tuesday

Tuesday evening the Parent-Teacher Association of Highland School met in the kindergarten room for monthly business meeting and lecture on "Trees."

Mrs. H. W. McKee Jr., presided and the meeting opened by the group singing "America" followed by solos by Mrs. W. J. Caldwell, who sang "Trees" and "Morning" accompanied by Miss Helen Ewing.

Mrs. M. Feuchtwanger addressed a few words to the assemblage on "Trees" and spoke of the lecture in the High school Thursday evening.

The children of 6A presented a playlet "Trees" under the direction of Pearl Hutchinson.

Mrs. W. C. Eckenrode spoke on "Gardens" and urged the children to grow flowers for the Garden Club show next fall.

Mrs. L. Kohn spoke on "Child Welfare" and the "Book Shelf." J. E. Oesterling of Butler then gave a talk on "Trees" and illustrated this with moving pictures, which were most instructive and interesting. The pictures show how the bugs and insects destroy these, and what is done to combat it.

An election of officers resulted in Mrs. Charles H. Young being chosen president; Mrs. Harry W. McKee Jr. and Miss Marjorie McAnis, vice presidents; Miss Mary Aiken secretary and Mrs. Louis Grossman treasurer.

The nominating committee included Mrs. R. A. Eckles, Matilda Coley and Mrs. J. H. Templeton.

Monday, May 2, the study group will meet at 2 p. m. in the office of the principal.

LEGION OF HONOR TO MEET TONIGHT

The entertainment committee has arranged a good program for the evening and a feed will be served at its conclusion.

Several important matters will come up for discussion and a large attendance is expected by Commander W. J. Chapman.

LAW FORBADE THIS MAN TO WORK

Well Known Machinist Unable to Hold Job, Owing to Requirements of the Workman's Compensation Law

You would not think it possible that there could be a law which would keep a man from working. But there is such a law right here in the United States, and plenty of men have felt its effects. Here is a statement from Mr. Herman Schuler of Beaver Falls, Pa., which tells a typical story.

"I am a machinist," he says, "and I was making good money, operating a big turret lathe. It takes a steady hand and a clear head to handle one of those powerful machines. But that never bothered me—not until the past year. I am a German and was raised on a little farm in the old country. In the good old German way—hard work and lots of it—up before the sun every day, winter and summer, and no rest till late at night. It was a hard life, but it made me so strong that I never dreamed that I could ever break down with sickness."

"However, about a year ago, I caught a bad cold. Before I knew what had hit me, catarrh had set in. I coughed a large part of the time and I absorbed germs of the disease into my stomach. Of course, my appetite failed. I could hardly eat at all. Naturally I lost weight, and then I began to have dizzy spells. I had to take physics every night in order to get my bowels to move. One day the superintendent noticed that I looked sick, and he ordered me to the company's doctor to be examined. The doctor said I was not fit to work, and the superintendent laid me off. He said that the compensation law would not let him keep me on the job as I was liable to have a dizzy spell and get hurt."

"I spent lots of money trying one so-called remedy after another, but none of them seemed to do me any good. I just got weaker and weaker all the time, and the dizzy spells increased. I was in despair when a good Italian neighbor told me about World's Tonic. He explained that this wonderful new scientific preparation is made from herbs and plants gathered in different parts of the world at the right time of the season. Therefore, it has a peculiar power to help Europeans and Americans, too, which ordinary medicines don't seem to have."

"This must be a fact, for as soon as I started taking World's Tonic, I felt that missing element were being replaced in my system. The catarrh healed within a few weeks. My stomach got well, my dizzy spells left me, my appetite picked up, and soon I had regained all my lost weight. In just one month after I laid me off I went back to the factory again, and the doctor said I was in fine shape. I have my old job back now and am feeling fine. I owe it all to World's Tonic." World's Tonic is on sale at J. M. Smith, Paisley's, Smith's and other modern drug stores. (B-30)

Mulentowners Meeting Changed

West Side School Organization Will Meet Next Week At School House

Because of another meeting which is being held in the West Side school building on Friday evening, the meeting of the Mulentowners whose pupils attended the old West Side school of years ago, has been postponed until Tuesday evening of next week.

This meeting is called for the purpose of making arrangements for the annual gathering to be held during the coming summer and transact other business.

LOOKING BACK IN NEW CASTLE

Recalling the outstanding men of the last part of the past century in the history of this community, one pauses at the name of Samuel W. Smith, mayor of this city from October 28, 1894, until the end of a term to which he was elected in February, 1895. Mayor Smith was born in Darlington, Beaver county, October 20, 1837. He removed with his parents to Hookerstown in 1839, where he resided until 1853, when he moved to North Beaver township, Lawrence county. He came to New Castle in 1871 and went into the drug business with Dr. John McKinley. He continued in this business until 1880. He was associated with W. P. Morrison in the wool business for a number of years. Afterwards he was with the Raney Milling company for five years. Council elected him mayor of New Castle October 28, 1894, and he was elected by the popular vote of the people for a full term in February, 1895. Mr. Smith was a veteran of the Civil war, enlisting from Big Beaver township in the 204th Pennsylvania heavy artillery. He was mustered out in July, 1865. He was well and favorably known both as a business man and a public official of the city.

Connecticut Is Given To Smith

Connecticut Ballots Show
Smith Supporters To Be Far In Lead

(International News Service)
HARTFORD, Conn., April 27.—To the ocean of Democratic sentiment for Alfred E. Smith in Massachusetts, Connecticut today added its first few drops of presidential preference.

The result of last night's primaries in New Haven showed that the "Old Guard" organization, swept all but two wards and will control the town convention Tuesday night by 124 to 11. That will mean the city's 61 votes to the state convention May 16, will be instructed to vote for a pledged Connecticut delegation of 16 votes for Smith at the national convention in Chicago. The total vote in New Haven was estimated at 6,000 for the "Old Guard" and 2,000 for the "Young Guard," which is favorable to Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York.

In Norwalk, although the "Old Guard" organization led by Paul R. Connery, a Smith man, was defeated in ward caucuses, indications were that the 16 town votes to the state convention will be instructed Thursday night in town convention to support Smith.

National Farm Outlook

By ARTHUR H. JENKINS
Editor, The Farm Journal
Written For Central Press

The long-delayed investigation of the Federal Farm Board has now been ordered by the senate, and the senate committee on agriculture now is sitting on the board's affairs, or will be soon.

It does not take a very smart man to foresee just what lines the inquiry—which the headline writers will call a "probe"—will take. To begin with, almost nothing will be said about the chief function of the Farm Board, the real purpose for which it was organized, which is the promotion of farmers for selling farm products. About the only way in which this subject will come up will be in connection with the $50,000 salary paid Mr. Milnor of the grain co-operative, and the $75,000 earned by Mr. Creekmore of the cotton co-operative. To make up for the neglect of other features of the work with hours and hours, if not days and days, devoted to these salaries, and the wickedness of the Farm Board in permitting them.

That is the first point. The second is that there will be more days devoted to the operations of the two stabilization corporations in wheat and cotton, the money that was lost in trying to slow down or stop the slide of prices in 1929 and 1930, and the terrible effect on the present markets of the stabilization grain and cotton unsold.

The Farm Board was directed by congress in the marketing act to set up these stabilization corporations and to establish and operate them in accordance with the law, and I am inclined to think, against the board's own better judgment.

However, there will be lots of talk about the board's bad judgment, and these lost millions of dollars, and almost nothing about the very doubtful wisdom of congress in trying to force its provision into the marketing act.

Then there will be days and days of denouncing the Farm Board because it "puts the government into business" in competition with private enterprise. This argument will come mostly from representatives of the great distributing trades—the grain elevators and grain dealers, the cotton handlers, the private wool growers, and all the great groups of middlemen handling farm products, known collectively as "the trade."

However, the trade will not have such a happy time as it perhaps anticipated, for the senate in its resolution ordered that the inquiry should take in the operations of the grain and cotton exchanges, and their attitude toward the Farm

Board, and the effects of their own operations on farm product prices. With this side of the investigation will develop I don't know, but it is certain that it will be nothing of any importance that is not already well known.

From the tone of these remarks, you may infer that I think the senate investigation mostly a waste of time. That is correct. However, we have to have these investigations from time to time, in a government run as ours is run, and if this one does no good, neither will it do any harm that I can see.

Visiting Doctors Convene At Hotel

Four-County Conference
Draws 150 Here Today
For Programs

WIVES GATHER TO FORM AUXILIARY

Marks Annual Assemblage
Of Tenth Councilor
District Host

Climaxing an enlightening morning-afternoon medical conference, nearly 100 physicians from Lawrence, Allegheny, Westmoreland and Beaver counties assembled in The Castleton, this afternoon were enjoying the closing hours of fellowship the annual meeting of the Tenth Councilor District membership affords.

With the doctors were nearly 50 physicians' wives, also gathered in The Castleton for an afternoon program. Formal organization of a ladies' auxiliary was slated for the program today.

Runs On Slow Time
Meeting on Eastern standard time the scientific sessions of the councilor district did not open until noon fast time. Luncheon for the doctors was scheduled for 1:30, fast time. The ladies will dine at 2 o'clock, fast time.

Dr. Robert L. Anderson of Pittsburgh, councilor of the tenth district, was in the presiding officers chair as the all day program opened, and immediately he called upon district censors for their regular two minutes reports.

Following the district reports came an address on "Bureaucracy" delivered by Dr. Walter F. Donaldson, secretary of the Pennsylvania State Medical Society and then another, "The Status of the Physician and the Organized Medical Profession in the Present Crisis" by Dr. William H. Mayer, president of the Pennsylvania state society.

It was lunch time then for the visitors, and they sat down to dine. An informal program was planned for the dinner.

Dr. Foster Presiding
At 3 o'clock, city time, the afternoon program commenced as Dr. John C. Foster, this city, president of the Lawrence County Medical society, the host group today, called for order.

Three more scientific addresses were to be heard, consuming a larger part of the afternoon. Speakers and their subjects were to be:

Dr. Charles Palkowsky, Jr., president-elect of the Pennsylvania State society, on "An Evaluation of Mechanical Procedures in the Diagnosis of Cardiac Disease." A discussion will also ensue, with Dr. Alex H. Colwell leading it.

Dr. Frank C. Hammond, professor of gynecology, Temple university medical school and editor of the Pennsylvania Medical Journal, on "Genital Bleeding." This lantern-slide discussion will be led by Dr. Bender Z. Cashman, Pittsburgh.

Dr. Leonard G. Redding, Scranton, first vice president of the Pennsylvania state society, speaking on "The Present Day Concept of Heredity." This will be a lantern demonstration.

Locals Play Hosts.
No elections or business discussions were on today's program, the time being devoted altogether to the messages of leading physicians and medical writers.

Officers and members of the county's medical organization were on hand to welcome the guests today and took general charge of arrangements. They will continue to handle the details of the conference until adjournment some time late this afternoon.

The Tenth Councilor District makes up a part of the Pennsylvania state society.

One month from today, on May 27 and 28, the Pennsylvania Eclectic Medical association will bring nearly 100 here for its 60th annual convention.

Democrats Name Candidates For State Offices

In the Democratic primaries of Tuesday, April 26, there was no opposition to the candidates on the ticket and they received the nomination without a struggle. For Congress, Sam B. Wilson of Beaver County was nominated.

For State Senate, Dr. John A. Meehan of New Castle is the nominee; for General Assembly in the first district, New Castle, W. J. Erce, Jr., and for the second district, James B. Kelso.

John K. Javens of Beaver county and John H. Wilson are the delegates to the National Convention and W. J. Erce, Jr., and Wilbur J. Baer are the Alternate Delegates.

William J. Baer was elected as the State Committeeman from this district.

Erect Barricade
At Woods Building

Settlement With Insurance Companies Not Yet Effected Today

Although no settlement had been effected early this afternoon, with the insurance companies on the loss at the Woods building, gutted by fire on April 12, work was started on erecting a barricade about the building.

It is believed that an agreement will be reached with the adjusters on the loss some time today. They were expected to arrive in the city this morning, but did not get here, and will probably be here this afternoon.

Gotham Eagerly Awaiting Walker-Seabury Word Duel

Mayor and Grand Inquisitor Are Both Masters of Repertee. Intensive Exchange of Verbal Stiletos Expected.

Unmoved by discussions of nation and international affairs by Congress, New York is eagerly looking forward to the approaching and long-delayed meeting between Mayor James J. Walker and Judge Samuel Seabury, counsel for the Hofstadter Investigating Committee, now probing municipal affairs in Bagdad on the Hudson. Since the Seabury Committee issued its futile summons to Russell T. Sherwood, reputed financial aide of Mayor Walker, to appear and be quizzed about his finances, Gotham has been licking its chops in anticipation of the day when Judge Seabury and New York's dapper Executive would meet and exchange samples of the snappy rhetoric for which each is noted. Mayor Jimmy is renowned far and wide as a past master in the art of squelching an opponent with a snappy comeback. The target of much criticism, Jimmy has literally "wise-cracked" his way out of many difficult situations. In Judge Seabury, Jimmy will meet a foeman worthy of his steel. Seabury, too, is noted for the devastating quality of his verbal ammunition, which, though not quite as scintillating as the Mayor's, has remarkable penetrative powers. So there we have two masters of wit, rarin' to go, and even the most reckless gambler will hesitate to wager on the result.

Two Section Map Shows Detail Of State Forest Area

HARRISBURG, April 27—A new public use map in two sections of the Sproul State forest in Clinton and Center counties, has been issued by the Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters. The northern section shows the Sproul State Forest and the Susquehanna river at the top. The map of the southern portion contains the State Forest south of the Susquehanna river. State Forest lands are marked in green and privately owned land in white. Among the features shown on the maps are county lines, streams, State game refuges, State highways, State forest, roads and trails, public camp grounds, and the locations of forest officers.

The Sproul State Forest comprises 196,824 acres. Within this and neighboring State Forests are some of the most rugged wooded areas in Pennsylvania. Approximately 110 miles of State Forest roads and 170 miles of trails make the area accessible for public use.

Within this district is located a portion of well known Black Forest in Pennsylvania, originally comprising nearly a million acres of dense woodland. This region contains many good fishing streams, and hundreds of deer are shot here annually by sportsmen. Bear, grouse, squirrels, rabbits and raccoon are also abundant.

Four sixty foot steel forest fire observation towers have been erected on the highest knobs of the Sproul State Forest for quickly detecting and reporting wood fires. District Forester Charles Hogeland, with headquarters at Renovo, reports that opportunities are excellent for hiking, camping, hunting and fishing. Close to three quarter million trees have been planted on the State land for timber production.

Abandoned Mines Take Fire, Cause Extensive Damage

New South Wales Area Near Sydney, Threatened As
Big Coal Mines
Take Fire

FIRES MAY BURN
FOR 20 YEARS

(International News Service)
SYDNEY, N. S. W., April 27.—Thousands of persons living over the Central Greta and the Anvil Creek Collieries were terrified today when the abandoned mines developed into a huge, raging man-made Vesuvius.

Great underground fires, which authorities have abandoned hope of controlling, burned throughout the mines, extending under a large area along the Sydney-Brisbane railroad. Flames, smoke, and deadly gas fumes poured steadily out of the pit mouths and various cracks, terrifying evidence of the roaring inferno below, which already has destroyed $500,000 worth of machinery, its white heat leaving twisted wreckage in its wake.

The pits threatened to cave in and swallow homes and all above them. Police, patrolling the area, stood ready to order evacuation and warn the railroad to cease operation.

Experienced miners declared the fire probably would burn for 20 years. The mines have not been worked for two years.

Hospital Aide Society

It is characteristically American that we take pride in our public-spirited contributions to worthy institutions. More and more worthiness is measured by performance rather than sentiment. The community hospital is an institute of mercy in which organized public benefactions, large and small, should be educated to orderly annual collection for the carrying out of a definite plan of growth and accomplishment and improvement of hospital care.

The Jameson Memorial Hospital Aide Society is performing for the good of the hospital, and consequently for the good of the community. On the week of May 1 the Hospital Aide will commence a week's campaign for new members. Only through the support of the community can the splendid service work of the organization carry on. Join!

Instead of adding eggs to hot pudding, pour pudding over beaten eggs, stirring all the time. This prevents eggs from cooking before blending.

MARLENE DIETRICH, MOVIE STAR, SUSPENDED BY PARAMOUNT

Action Is Forced On Film Company

Refusal Of Star To Report For Work Is Cause Of Day's Order

DIRECTOR IS ALSO GIVEN SUSPENSION

By WALLACE N. RAWLES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, April 27.—The brilliant and meteoric screen career of Marlene Dietrich had been halted at least temporarily today.

The Paramount studio suspended "Garbo's only rival" and dropped her from the payroll for her refusal to report for work yesterday in a picture by Schulberg had assigned Richard Wallace to direct.

Director Suspended
Josef von Sternberg, noted director, was suspended when he walked off the lot because of dissatisfaction over Miss Dietrich's new film. He was also dropped from the payroll. He is now enroute to New York.

B. P. Schulberg, managing director of production for Paramount indicated that "we shall take immediate legal steps to protect our rights."

"We have had the test forced on us to determine if employees drawing large sums of money weekly are in fact, employees or can do as they please," he said.

Miss Dietrich had been ordered to appear at 10:30 a. m. yesterday to start work under director Wallace declared by Schulberg to be "one of our finest directors."

The star failed to appear. Nor did she communicate with Schulberg to explain her move.

Reveals Stock Market Ballyhoo On Public

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 27.—The "good old ballyhoo," by which the general public was lured into buying highly inflated stocks only to lose huge sums when the promoters unloaded their holdings, was vividly explained at the Senate's short-selling investigation Tuesday by Rep. Fiorella LaGuardia (R) of New York.

Armed with a trunk load of documents, the New Yorker showed how publicity campaigns were staged to build up false values for Maxwell Motors in 1923, Savage Arms in 1924 and Pure Oil stocks in 1925. He even produced the promoter's checks cashed by financial writers who were paid for writing optimistic stories about these stocks. At least one of the writers, who took such a check, has been criticizing the stock market inquiry.

LaGuardia got his records from A. Newton Plummer who served as publicity man for the brokerage firm of Jackson Brothers and Bosel and for the Chase Securities Corp. in motoring stocks. Plummer scattered checks with a lavish hand among financial writers who allegedly published friendly stories about the stocks he sought to promote.

He also traced a promotion campaign in Indian Motor stock in 1930. He showed how favorable publicity lured the public into buying the stock. When prices rose from 5 to 17 the promoters unloaded on the public. The stock then fell back to 5 but the promoters had reaped a huge profit.

GUARDS AGAINST IT!

*CLIMATIC-CONTROL

is the preadjustment of the specifications of Mobilgas so that it automatically adapts itself to the variations in "engine heat," even as high as 150°, caused by changes in temperature, altitude, humidity and road "pull." In the Mobilgas Research Laboratories, all these changing climatic conditions have been "manufactured" in hot and cold testing chambers. Here engine tests are conducted day after day. The road performance of Mobilgas is thus scientifically verified at different "engine heats," and its specifications are preadjusted before it is placed on sale in your locality.

HOT SUN, long hills or high speeds can frequently cause your car to spit, buck or even stall. This is vapor-lock. Your car is strangling. Unusually high "engine heat" causes your gasoline to vaporize in the feed-line before it reaches your carburetor. This vapor prevents the fuel from reaching the combustion chambers. It is strangling your car.

Mobilgas with Climatic-Control guards against vapor-lock. Its specifications have been preadjusted so that it automatically adapts itself to the unusual "engine heats" caused by hot weather or undue driving strains. Under any weather conditions Mobilgas gives your car both quick-starting and steady power after you start. It assures you the highest usable level of performance whenever, wherever you drive.

There is no price increase for Mobilgas with Climatic-Control. Why don't you fill your tank and let your car decide?

Butler High Coming Here For Revenge Of Defeat Back In 1926

Basketball Rivals Want Another Chance At New Castle High In Football

Game At Taggart Field Friday Night Should Be Real Lively Tussle

Butler High School football team which plays New Castle High here at Taggart Field Friday evening under the arc lights will be in shape to give the red and black team a real tussle, according to W. C. "Bill" Faust, Butler sports editor.

The Butler high gridders are taking this spring game real serious. They have trained diligently under Coaches Heinzer and McDowell for the past several weeks and are about ready for their invasion of Taggart field. Coach Heinzer has been using two teams in the practices and has run them through regular games of four periods each and officials and everything. The White team looks the best with Narbetsky, Cherkitsky, Krankota and Mintz in the backfield. The Gold team suffered defeat Monday night 8 to 0. The Gold backfield which is rated the second team and a possible starting combination, consists of Abraham at quarter, Little and Sand-loop at halfbacks and Sherman at fullback.

Butler Confident
Butler and New Castle have not met on the football field since the fall of 1926. Butler took a drubbing here and since that time efforts to schedule them have been in vain. This year the Soapsminers believe that they have a chance to give New Castle a little cuffing around and they are confident of this score so much that about 1,000 Butler fans are coming to New Castle to watch them do it.

Last year Butler had a strong team climaxing their successful season with a tie with Wilkensburg High and the only team that could take Wilkensburg was Washington High. So there you have the picture.

Rambo At Quarter
Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh put his New Castle boys through a tough workout Tuesday afternoon. The local team will be green and not quite as heavy as in former years, however the boys have entered the training drills with their hearts and souls and they are going to go or die for the dear old alma mater High School Friday night. There is a good feeling on this ball club. They are just a little green, but they make up for it in fight. Tom Rambo looks like a find at quarter. His work is improving daily.

Uram-Nickum Halves
Johnny Uram and Nickum will likely get the calls for the halfback posts in event of a dry field, both boys are light and fast. Kolodjeski or Komine will hold down the fullback post.

Tickets for the game are going fast. Indications point to a big crowd at Taggart Field Friday night in event of good weather. The kickoff is set for 8 o'clock Eastern Standard Time or 9 o'clock Daylight Savings Time.

ATHLETICS ARE FARING BADLY

Rumors Of Dissension In Connie Mack's Team—Pitchers Going Poorly

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, April 27.—With Connie Mack's two aces, Grove and Earnshaw, faltering badly, and with reports current that internal dissension exists among the members of the Athletics, the complexion of the American league race has changed since the start of the season.

New York's Yankees, considered by many experts to be the leading contender in the junior circuit, now figure that Washington, not Philadelphia, is the club they must beat to win the pennant. And to return the compliment, Manager Walter Johnson of the Senators thinks the A's have seen their best days and is training his heaviest guns on the Yankees.

The McCarthymen took second place away from the Senators by winning a 6 to 5 decision over Walter Johnson's men here yesterday in the first meeting of the two rivals this season.

A development almost as pleasing to the Yanks was the collapse of Lefty Grove, Philadelphia's great southpaw, against Boston. After hurling no-hit ball for five innings Robert Moses blew up higher than a kite in the sixth when the Red Sox pushed six runs across the platter on a pass, an error and a double by Charlie Berry with the bases full. The Sox got ten hits in all and won in a romp, 10 to 2.

"Bull" Durham, who went the route for the Sox, held the A's to five hits and pitched shutout ball after the first inning. The defeat dropped the A's into sixth place.

These two games were the only contests played in a second successive day of cold weather and rain in major league cities.

Tickets For Game Are Selling Fast

Indications point to a fine crowd at Taggart Field in event of good weather. The tickets are selling for 25, 50 and 75 cents. The 75 cent seats are in the center section of the concrete stands.

The west side bleacher seats are selling for 50 cents, and the 25 cent seats are in the bleachers at both ends of the field. Seats are being sold and reserved at the Sporting Goods Store.

TUBE TOWN TIGERS WIN
Tube Town Tigers baseball team nosed out the Wabash Stars 5 to 4 in a game played at the Cedar street field. The pitching of Chumura was too much for the Stars who had but seven hits, while the Tigers had only four off of Cangeliero.

Ferrucci Hurls Two-Hit Contest

Wampum High Pitcher In Shape And Downs Bessemer High 5 To 0

Ralph Ferrucci, Wampum High pitcher was in fine shape yesterday afternoon and allowed Bessemer High but two hits in a County League game played at Bessemer High field. The Wampum team won their second straight game 5 to 0. Ferrucci fanned 11 men, and walked two. He was opposed by Kotchmas, and Plevnic for Bessemer, who allowed Wampum seven hits. The game was loosely played a number of errors creeping in to mar the record.

Stanley the Bessemer shortstop was the star of the game for the losers having one of the two hits allowed by Ferrucci. The field was muddy.

The score by innings:

Wampum ..... 320 00-5 7 1
Bessemer ..... 000 00-0 2 3
Batteries—Wampum, Ferrucci and Ault, Beatrice. Bessemer, Plevnic, Kotchmas, and Slavish. Umpire—Smith.

Baseball Moguls Losing Heavily

Early April Opening Causes Heavy Losses For Big League Officials

WEATHER COLD, AND VERY RAINY

By FRANK G. MENKE
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, April 27.—Baseball magnates are the kind of people who will sop up poisoned tea, suffer excruciatingly, recover and finish up the jug; who will eat tinned fishies, run full tilt into ptomaine jitters, call a doctor, get cured—and then eat the rest of the nice little fishes. Experience doesn't seem to help 'em at all.

They hold rigidly to customs of their forefathers in balldom and much which transpires that demonstrates the evil of ancient ways brings no change in their conduct.

Hold To Customs.

Back in the yesteryears when April was a month that incited poets to profound poeving, the leaders in the national sport regarded mid-April as the proper time to cause baseball to make its annual debut. But April, these past ten or twelve years, seems to have swapped places with March with its wintry zephyrs, and April now is nothing to write about unless in tragic prose.

Season after season, for a decade or so, the weather through April has been almost universally cold and rainy. Countless opening day shows have been postponed—and postponed again.

It has been estimated that the mid-April openings and mid and late April postponements have cost the big league clubs a total of almost $1,000,000 annually.

Magnates Lose Heavily.
This year is no exception. Some of the inaugurals had to be postponed. Others were put on under conditions where only Eskimos could have been comfortable—and they had to be very healthy Eskimos.

Although the season now has been under way for almost two weeks there haven't been six days when weather conditions were suitable for fans sitting in the open grandstands.

So much was expected. But the baseball folks who should have learned their lesson last year and the year before and in other years held rigidly to the April 12th idea. And once again they are the sufferers.

OKLAND SLUGGERS

Oakland Sluggers downed the Tube Town Tigers 5 to 2 in a game played at Cedar street field. Dudek on the hill for the Oakland team allowed but four hits. F. Smith and Chumura featured at bat.

HIGHLIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

George Washington
No. 63. Howe Puts To Sea

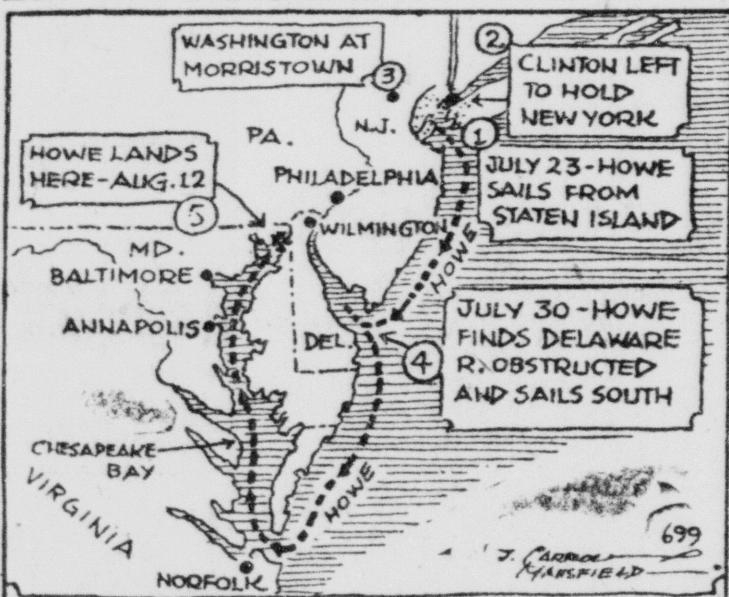

THE WINTER OF 1776-1777 WAS A TRYING TIME FOR WASHINGTON. THROUGH THE EXPIRATION OF SHORT-TERM ENLISTMENTS HIS ARMY AT MORRISTOWN MELTED AWAY TO 3,000 MEN. FORTUNATELY, THE BRITISH DID NOT ATTACK AND WASHINGTON WAS ABLE TO RAISE AND TRAIN 5,000 NEW SOLDIERS. ©1932 BY J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

IN JUNE, 1777, HOWE SET OUT ACROSS NEW JERSEY TO ATTACK PHILADELPHIA, BUT FAILED TO MANEUVER WASHINGTON OUT OF HIS STRONG POSITIONS AND DID NOT DARE PRESS ON TO THE DELAWARE, LEAVING THE AMERICAN ARMY IN HIS REAR. DEEPLY CHAGRINED, HOWE RETREATED TO STATEN ISLAND.

LATE IN JULY HOWE MYSTERIOUSLY PUT TO SEA WITH HIS ARMY AND A LARGE FLEET. WASHINGTON WAS SORELY PERPLEXED. FOR DAYS THE BRITISH FLEET WAS NOT SIGHTED ALONG THE COAST AND WASHINGTON WAS KEPT BUSY GUESSING WHERE HIS OPPONENT'S NEXT BLOW WOULD FALL.

AT LAST HE LEARNED THAT 18,000 REDCOATS HAD SAILED TO THE HEAD OF CHESAPEAKE BAY AND HAD LANDED AT A POINT ONLY 50 MILES FROM PHILADELPHIA. WASHINGTON HASTILY MOVED HIS LITTLE ARMY TO WILMINGTON, DELAWARE, TO PARRY HOWE'S THRUST.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Firm Stock Market Is Reported Today

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, April 27.—A firm stock market today followed the overnight news of the omission of U. S. Steel common dividend and its poor first quarter earnings report, indicating that this news had been discounted.

Scattered selling came into steel common after opening steadiness and it fell back to its bear market low. Steel preferred improved on payment of the regular dividend.

General Motors was heavily sold and it equalled its bear market low. This brought sympathetic selling into Du Pont.

Rail stocks showed a steady tone. Utilities worked higher with some of the lower-priced issues, like National Power & Light, being especially prominent. Oils were steadied by a continued strong tone in Standard of New Jersey. Coppers did little.

Bonds were irregular. Cotton firmed up while wheat was steady.

BETWEEN INNINGS

GOSSIP — NEWS — COMMENT

Travis Jackson, the New York Giants' ace infielder, looks himself again. In a recent game the star made a brilliant one-hand stop of a slashing hit and then put up a perfect toss to first for an easy out.

Waite Hoyt, Brooklyn's ex-fat pitcher, now smokes a pipe.

Why Burleigh Grimes has been so late in appearing on the mound for the Chicago Cubs, his new club, has puzzled many fans. Burleigh has been suffering from influenza and is just now getting back into shape.

Hans Wagner now runs a sport goods shop in Pittsburgh.

Clark Griffith, Washington owner, sides with President John Heydler of the National League, who advocates a later opening date for major league seasons because of April's uncertain weather. "Utilizing present open dates would do the trick," Griffith points out.

New Sensations Are Promised In Stock Probe

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Fresh sensations in the senate's investigation of speculation on the New York stock exchange were promised today by Senator Norbeck (R) of South Dakota, chairman, after the inquiry's new "steering committee" began drafting a program of procedure.

Norbeck revealed that Richard Whitney, president of the exchange, will be recalled later to explain discrepancies between his testimony and that of other witnesses. Norbeck said Whitney's testimony had been "ruined" by Matthew C. Brush, the noted Wall Street bear.

Norbeck referred to the testimony of Rep. Fiorella LaGuardia (R) of New York, about the $280,000 payments made by A. Newton Plummer, New York publicity man, for favorable stories about selected stock in some New York newspapers. Norbeck said future developments in the inquiry would make Plummer "a piker" in comparison.

Illinois Man Is Ship Stowaway. Poses As Prince

Prince Romanoff's Little Disguise Is Penetrated By Ship's Commander

READILY ADMITS BEING STOWAWAY

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, April 27.—Playing the part of a nobleman by day while on a luxurious liner coming from Europe, but sleeping at night in a dog kennel near the top deck funnels, "Prince Romanoff" faces charges at Ellis Island not only of being a stowaway, but also of being a usurper of the title.

Authorities will seek to establish whether he is really the debonair tailor's son from Hillsboro, Ill., who by his aristocratic pretences fooled New York society and Hollywood stars into entertaining him as a supposed member of Russian royalty.

Dapper, dark moustached, the "prince" easily made friends with passengers aboard the big liner. For four days he mingled with the first class passengers.

Bluff Is Called.

He donned correct morning coat and striped trousers early in the day in his kennel, then sauntered to meet the notable company of passengers coming to America. He disappeared toward sunset, to emerge unobserved from his lofty state-room clad impeccably in a tuxedo.

But he made one mistake. He told Edward A. Cudahy, Chicago, of his supposed friendship with Captain Blanford, ship's commander. Cudahy innocently mentioned it to the captain, and when Blanford confronted the "prince" the latter shrugged his shoulders.

"I had to stowaway, so I decided to do it first class," he said. "Your meals, captain, are excellent."

Use Brakes, Not Horn, Eynon Says

HARRISBURG, April 27.—Less use of the horn and more use of brakes is a partial solution of the motor vehicle accident problem, Benjamin G. Eynon, commissioner of motor vehicles, said today.

"The obsession of demanding and having the right of way is the cause of many traffic accidents," the commissioner declared. "It is about time that motorists were ridding themselves of the idea that they have supreme rights over others in the use of the highways."

"One of the primary causes of highway accidents is the absence of highway courtesy. It is because so many motorists seem to have lost that consideration and civility by which their other social contacts are governed that we need a book of more than 100 pages of restrictive laws to keep them from being killed or injured in traffic accidents. And then we don't succeed."

Reports On Crime Totals For Month

HARRISBURG, April 27.—The Pennsylvania state police and 83 local police forces throughout Pennsylvania have submitted to the United States department of justice, through the state bureau of criminal identification, their statistics covering the serious crimes reported in the state during March.

The report shows that there were 25 cases of murder and 58 manslaughter. Most of the manslaughter cases resulted from the negligent operation of motor vehicles.

The report also covers 286 cases of robbery, 827 of burglary and 1120 of larceny.

Is Brown Or White Bread Better Food?

Dr. Clendenen Tells Both Sides Of The Controversy

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

The controversy as to the merits of white bread or whole wheat bread is getting warmer than ever. Ten years ago the whole-wheaters had the floor; they proclaimed that white bread was positively harmful and whole wheat the only healthful form of bread.

Today the white-breaders have begun to fight back; they say that whole wheat and bran are harmful and cause indigestion and colitis and white bread is the only sensible way to eat bread.

The whole wheat and bran advocates now actually are on the defensive.

The idea of this series on bread began when a reader asked me which side of the controversy I am on. I am not on either side. Whole wheat bread is just what some people need; it is irritating and indigestible to others. White bread is highly nutritious for most people; for some it does not contain enough fibre, and for some it causes indigestion by stimulating too much acid in the stomach.

Too many questions, especially dietetic questions, are settled by paragoning in that dogmatic, one-track way. How can one article of diet be exactly right for 120,000,000 people all with different kinds of digestive systems and nutritional engines?

The worst example I have had of this attitude was in a letter from the superintendent of schools of a city of medium size. She accused me of being in the pay of the bakers.

So far as the bakers are concerned they have no interest whatever in the controversy. They make both kinds of bread, equally well. But they have found that most people cannot eat whole wheat comfortably and when the whole wheat argument is reinforced by saying that white bread is harmful, people are frightened off and as a consequence eat no bread at all.

The wheat grain has a central kernel called the "endosperm". It is highly nutritious, designed for the use of the developing seed, and makes up about 85 per cent of the grain. This is the part that remains when wheat is refined and made into white flour.

Surrounding this endosperm is an outer envelope of cellulose, or bran, which is left in with the flour to make whole wheat.

The bran contains vitamin B and when it is removed from the flour that takes away the only vitamin bread has. The whole wheat advocates make much of this, but they fail to explain that there is a great deal of vitamin B in other parts of any meal.

The bran also provides roughage, which stimulates the movements of the intestinal tract. Unfortunately, it does so very efficiently in some people and stomach and intestinal specialists see many patients who are sick just because they have been eating too much bran. Perhaps they have over-emphasized this lately.

Claims that white bread is harmful and causes such diseases as cancer are utterly without foundation. If true, it applies to whole wheat also, because whole wheat contains white flour as well as the other parts of the wheat grain.
